What are attendees are saying:

"The job planning matrix you presented is really a game changer for us. This will save us tons of time and money. Wish we were thinking this way for the past 10 years!" - St. Paul, MN Attendee

"We need to begin the process of understanding the connection between tool wear and finished part quality, the handouts and challenges definitely opened my eyes about what is really going on and what we can do about it" - Milwaukee, WI Attendee

"I have been to many tooling and die cutting related seminars over a couple of decades. Nothing even comes close to this one. The best by far! Congrats" - Chicago, IL Attendee

Are you ready for positive change?

Tooling & Converting Workshop

The objective of our Workshop is to share knowledge that will enhance your production converting efficiencies as well as your company's profits. The MDC Tooling & Converting Workshop is hosted at our South St. Paul campus. Our attendees have unlimited access to our insight, knowledge, and expertise about all types and best uses of Flatbed Tooling Technologies.

In Classroom with The Experts

The following topics will be covered in detail:

- How to Create Effective Converting Production Plans
- Proper Press Set-up & Tool Maintenance Techniques
- Tooling & Press Make-ready
- Budgeting for Tooling Expense
- How to Select Proven Tooling Solutions

On Press with Our Engineers

Throughout the event, we demonstrate all flatbed tooling on press and troubleshoot common challenges that arise in production. Every attendee will learn how to assess all applications (both current & new) for potential failures before running the job. Our engineers will demonstrate and train each attendee how to set up and run both simple and challenging applications with ease. All attendees will become aware of the essential components of your applications that impact your profit margins.

New! Press Operator Training

This is a specific workshop developed by our engineers for your press operators. It is designed for operators of all skill level. Contact us today to find out how you can strengthen your converting operations!
